

Hannah (age 10) does the morning announcements at school and is applying to middle schools for next year.

Lucy (age 7) likes reading, drawing and watching "I Love Lucy"

Sophie (age 4) is in her last year of pre-school and loves whatever her big sisters are in to and "taking care" of Grace.

Grace (age 1) is a cute baby who enjoys tearing the kitchen apart.

Crystal holds everything together and has gotten into running (when she's not swimming). She had fun doing "Seussical" with the girls over the summer.

Tim's not teaching seminary anymore. (He relieved himself of that duty shortly after being set apart as the bishop on our 12th wedding anniversary in May.) He enjoys the challenge of juggling Church responsibilities with work and golf.

Hannah (age 10) does the morning announcements at school and is applying to middle schools for next year.

Lucy (age 7) likes reading, drawing and watching "I Love Lucy"

Sophie (age 4) is in her last year of pre-school and loves whatever her big sisters are in to and "taking care" of Grace.

Grace (age 1) is a cute baby who enjoys tearing the kitchen apart.

Crystal holds everything together and has gotten into running (when she's not swimming). She had fun doing "Seussical" with the girls over the summer.

Tim's not teaching seminary anymore. (He relieved himself of that duty shortly after being set apart as the bishop on our 12th wedding anniversary in May.) He enjoys the challenge of juggling Church responsibilities with work and golf.

Hannah (age 10) does the morning announcements at school and is applying to middle schools for next year.

Lucy (age 7) likes reading, drawing and watching "I Love Lucy"

Sophie (age 4) is in her last year of pre-school and loves whatever her big sisters are in to and "taking care" of Grace.

Grace (age 1) is a cute baby who enjoys tearing the kitchen apart.

Crystal holds everything together and has gotten into running (when she's not swimming). She had fun doing "Seussical" with the girls over the summer.

Tim's not teaching seminary anymore. (He relieved himself of that duty shortly after being set apart as the bishop on our 12th wedding anniversary in May.) He enjoys the challenge of juggling Church responsibilities with work and golf.

Hannah (age 10) does the morning announcements at school and is applying to middle schools for next year.

Lucy (age 7) likes reading, drawing and watching "I Love Lucy"

Sophie (age 4) is in her last year of pre-school and loves whatever her big sisters are in to and "taking care" of Grace.

Grace (age 1) is a cute baby who enjoys tearing the kitchen apart.

Crystal holds everything together and has gotten into running (when she's not swimming). She had fun doing "Seussical" with the girls over the summer.

Tim's not teaching seminary anymore. (He relieved himself of that duty shortly after being set apart as the bishop on our 12th wedding anniversary in May.) He enjoys the challenge of juggling Church responsibilities with work and golf.